

21 April 2006

To the members of the Korean War Project,

The Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command would like to acknowledge the efforts of the Korean War Project website and to thank its founders, Ted and Hal Barker, and all those that have worked on the project.

This project is a fine example of what private citizens can do to assist us in our mission to account for America's missing service members. By helping veterans, friends and families of those missing Americans, and other interested persons to learn more about the Korean War, and by promoting contact between families and the personnel accounting community, the Korean War Project has facilitated the location of DNA sample donors. Those DNA samples have made, and will continue to make, a material contribution to the identification of our fallen heroes.

I would like to thank you for your assistance and to encourage you to continue to help us with this mission in the future.

Until They Are Home!
