

Korean War Project Update November 22 1999
<http://www.koreanwar.org>

Hello to all! The MIA Remains story is out today.

I find it to be very balanced and it is focused on the important work being done to repatriate remains of American war dead. Not a political story, it is about our servicemen and women. More can be done.

===== Thanks from Hal and Ted =====

1. Federal Communications Weekly - link (!!)
2. Federal Funding for MIA Research
3. Guestbook | Looking For - live messaging
4. This Mailing List
5. Sponsors | Members - online list
6. A word from Dan Verton - online editor (!!)

====1.===== Nov 22 MIA Remains FCW Web =====

Here is story link: <http://www.fcw.com>

(note: there are several sections to the story, be sure to click all links!)

The Final Journey Home
<https://fcw.com/articles/2000/06/26/the-final-journey-home.aspx>

Hi-tech offers families of Korea Vets closure
<https://fcw.com/articles/1999/11/21/hitech-offers-families-of-korea-vets-closure.aspx>

Databases don't always tell the whole story

<https://fcw.com/articles/1999/11/21/databases-dont-always-tell-the-whole-story.aspx>

====2.===== CILHI - DPMO Funding=====

Reprint the story and asking your Congressman to fully support the work of CILHI and DPMO. Funding is an issue and of course is highly political.

CILHI will not tell you they need funds, they do!

====3.===== Guestbook | Looking For =====

Our Looking For section is now fully live for direct messaging, US, UN-all nations, much work ongoing.

Choose View Guestbook, type in your last name to see if you are listed on the guest area. Check our

Looking For to see if your unit is listed.

=====4.===== This Mailing List =====

This list is a private list for our guests/members.
A person may join or leave the list at will. It is compiled from our Guestbook and is for public service messages of general interest to veterans and families.

To join or leave the list click here:

<http://www.kwp.org/maillist/enduse.cfm>

=====5.===== Sponsors | Members =====

Click here for online list of our patrons. We thank each of you for your wonderful support. Many are both sponsor and member.

Sponsor:

<http://www.koreanwar.org/html/nonprofit/sponsor.cfm>

Member:

<http://www.koreanwar.org/html/nonprofit/member.cfm>

=====6.===== From Dan Verton =====

Thanks to all of you for your responses. This was without a doubt my finest hour as a journalist.

The story is available at www.fcw.com. The first story on "Naming the Missing" has links to all of the sidebars on Korea.

A special thank you to Vincent Krepps for allowing us to use the photos of his brother..and to Hal and Ted Barker for their help in getting the feedack that made these stories possible in the first place.

As a vet myself, Semper Fi to all.

Dan Verton
Online News Editor
Federal Computer Week

===== End Message =====

You may re-broadcast this message to your personal e-mail chain. This list reaches 5700 persons direct.

Korean War Project PO BOX 180190 Dallas, Tx 75218

Ted Barker, Korean War Project at: tbarker@kwp.org